

About C3 Inspire

In order for exceptional university students to unlock their huge potential, they must find a medium in which to connect, collaborate, and create so that their ideas turn into action

THE NEED FOR C3 INSPIRE

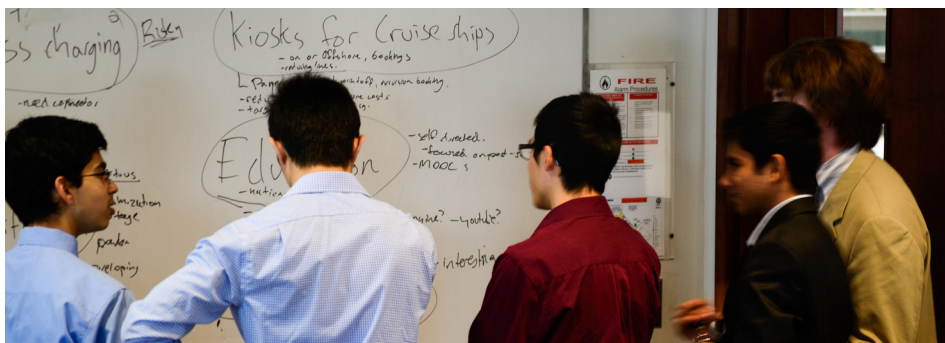

Many bright students dream of starting a business or not-for-profit organization but their ideas fall short of reality due to gaps in their and their peers' skill sets. There is a missing bridge to connect highly talented students within a university and even more so between one university and another. We are building this bridge

A common regret of high potential students is they did not meet other like-minded peers earlier in their post-secondary education and were not able to work on a common initiative. The missed opportunity to harness the combined potential of these students has an immeasurable cost. We are determined to unlock their potential

Although there are events, degree programs and buildings dedicated to entrepreneurship, there is very little infrastructure to bring together non-entrepreneurs or collaborators and expose them to ideas they can become a part of. We are committed to fostering collaboration between those with great ideas and those with great skills

C3 Inspire was created to address these challenges and responds to them by hosting C3 Conferences, C3 Inspire events and collaborating with partners that believe in our mission.

WHY C3 IS DIFFERENT

- C3 brings together students from various universities in diverse programs that have different skill sets
- C3 puts an equal emphasis on starting social change initiatives and business initiatives
- C3 brings together entrepreneurs, collaborators and experienced professionals that guide students towards making their ideas a reality

THE C3 INSPIRE VISION

Our vision is to unlock the huge potential of ambitious students by providing them with opportunities to connect, collaborate and create new initiatives with other amazing students.

THE C3 INSPIRE MISSION

Our mission is to make the C3 Conferences the best events in Canada for amazing people to meet each other and where remarkable business and social change ideas begin. We believe that by bringing together high caliber individuals from different universities and backgrounds to start new initiatives, we can increase their probability of success, accelerate the time it takes them to become successful and deepen the positive impact they make.
